

FINALISTS ANNOUNCED FOR THE

2016 AUSTRALIAN SUPPLY CHAIN & LOGISTICS AWARDS

The Supply Chain & Logistics Association of Australia, in conjunction with RAMCO, Dematic and Xtreme Freight officially announced today the finalists for the longest running and most prestigious awards program in the industry. Having served the industry for over fifty-five years, the ASCL Awards are the most recognised and esteemed awards for an individual or a company to be awarded.

Winners of the Australian Supply Chain & Logistics Awards will be announced on at the ASCL Award Gala dinner to be held on Wednesday, 23 November 2016 in the Grand Ball Room at Luna Park, Sydney.

Training, Education & Development Award

Training, education and development remains a vital part of allowing knowledge to be utilised for new ideas and supply chain improvements to be discovered and then implemented This award will be presented to a company that can best demonstrate their committeemen, application and results of providing training, education and development of their people. The trophy was first awarded in 2002 and is dedicated to the late Professor Peter Gilmour.

Finalists are: Mike Steele, National Mailing & Marketing; Belinda Polglase, All Purpose Transport; Melanie Fuller, Young Guns Container Crew; and Prof Behnam Fahimnia, University of Sydney.