Retail First, Quest Newspapers and All Purpose Transport Christmas Collection!

Home / News / Retail First, Quest Newspapers and All Purpose Transport Christmas Collection!

October 4, 2016

Retail First has been helping Foodbank feed families since 2009. We were originally inspired by the crucial services Foodbank provides and the realisation that not only does Foodbank help the homeless or jobless, but also the working poor asking for help to feed their young families. Given that everyday families are now struggling to pay their bills and put food on the table, going without is closer to home than we thought. That extra item of food goes a long way for many, and we know that the generosity of the community is a key ingredient in helping feed families this Christmas.

The collaboration with All Purpose Transport to provide the logistics and Quest Community Newspapers to help with awareness makes for a terrific campaign to help our communities during Christmas.

Our 40 tonne target is our largest goal set, so join us and get involved follow the link for all 19 locations to donate a little extra from your weekly shop or to drop off your workplace can drive!

Simply purchasing an extra tin of baked beans or a bag of pasta and dropping it into the donation cages that will be located outside each supermarket in Retail First shopping centres, goes a long way to making a difference this Christmas!
